A boy wizard grows up

A BOY WIZARD GROWS UP

by Jehan Casinader

1 He has cast a spell over movielovers for the last nine years. Since his first appearance as the famous boy wizard, the Harry Potter films have earned nearly $4.5 billion in cinemas around the world. Hollywood is bewitched and named Daniel Radcliffe the most powerful young actor in the world. Now, fans can see him again in Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince, the sixth film from J.K. Rowling's best-selling book series. And we can't wait to see what Daniel, who turned 20 in July 2009, will do next.

2 With Emma Watson as Hermione and Rupert Grint as Ron, Daniel first brought to life the magical world of Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry in Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone back in 2001. Daniel was chosen from thousands of actors for the role of Harry – even though he hadn't yet read all of the finished books!

3 And since then, Daniel has shown us that he's not just a wizard. In 2007 he tried out an Australian accent in the drama December Boys, about orphans looking for new families. In the same year, he also acted in the TV movie My Boy Jack. But Daniel's success isn't limited to films. From London to New York City, he's shown that he has what it takes to be a serious stage actor.We spoke to Daniel to find out what it's been like to grow up in the spotlight.

4 What is it like to be a child actor?
In America, if you're a child actor, you're treated as an actor first and a child second. In England, you're treated as a child first and an actor second – which is the right way to do it. If you're 11 years old and people are treating you like royalty, then of course you are going to become arrogant. But if you're just treated as a kid, then you will be all right, I think.

5 Have you grown up too quickly?
I don't think I've grown up too fast, but I have grown up faster than others. Suddenly, I feel like I have to be an adult. I don't know what being an adult means, and I don't know how to grow up.

6 What is the weirdest thing a fan has done at a film premiere?
It's quite weird that girls make marriage proposals. You've just got to remember that they're here because they love Harry.

7 Why are people fascinated by you?
Really, I have no idea at all. I think it's because I'm in the middle of this incredible Harry Potter world. It's such a huge thing.

8 Do you worry that too many young people look up to you?
I don't want people to think of me as a role model, because they don't know me. But I think Harry Potter is a good role model.

9 Do you keep your personal life separate from your public life?
The most interesting parts about me are things I don't want to talk about in public. Every quote will eventually come back at you in some way. I told somebody that I wrote poems. A few months later, people were asking, "When can we see some?" Not ever!

10 What would it be like to spend a day inside your head?
It would be totally incomprehensible – very frantic. I have a very busy mind, and that's one of the things I don't really like about myself. I would like to switch off more. I wish I could be calmer, to be honest.

11 How do you deal with failure?
I don't think I have failed yet – but there is still time! I don't want people to think I am not serious about acting. If I take a role for the wrong reasons, I will have failed.

12 Will you ever get tired of acting?
I'm still madly enthusiastic about what I do. I get a big kick out of being on the set and filming. So, as long as I don't lose that feeling, I think I'll be all right
